

DISCUSSING PARKINSON'S-RELATED HALLUCINATIONS AND DELUSIONS WITH YOUR DOCTOR

If you or the person you care for is experiencing hallucinations or delusions associated with Parkinson's disease, you're not alone. Over the course of their disease, about 50% of people living with Parkinson's may see things that aren't there or believe things that aren't true.

HERE ARE A FEW QUESTIONS TO DISCUSS AT YOUR NEXT APPOINTMENT AFTER YOU OR A LOVED ONE HAS EXPERIENCED HALLUCINATIONS OR DELUSIONS:

1. Do Parkinson's-related hallucinations and delusions get worse over time?
2. At what point do you recommend starting treatment for hallucinations and delusions?
3. What treatment options are available to manage the hallucinations and delusions related to Parkinson's disease?
4. Does treating hallucinations and delusions affect how motor symptoms are treated?
